What are federal Title IV funds?

Title IV funds are federal student aid funds, which are from federal student aid programs administered by the U.S. Department of Education. Title IV funds include Direct Subsidized/Unsubsidized Loan, Direct Graduate PLUS Loan, Direct PLUS Loan, Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG). It does not include scholarships from the college or other private organizations.

How are Title IV funds applied to my student account?

The Department of Education requires that Title IV funds be applied only to specific allowable charges. Allowable charges include: tuition, mandatory fees, and housing and food contracted by the college.

Why do I have an excess of Title IV funds?

Excess Title IV funds occur when the total amount of Title IV aid funds disbursed to your student account exceeds charges for tuition, mandatory fees, and housing and food contracted by the college.

What is the purpose of the Title IV authorization form?

The college, in compliance with federal regulations, must obtain the voluntary permission from the student or parent borrower to apply federal financial aid proceeds to pay for charges related to a prior term, future term, or charges other than tuition, mandatory fees, and housing and food contracted by the college.

Will signing the authorization form help me?

Yes. By signing the form, any excess Title IV funds will be permitted to be applied to prior non-allowable charges as well as any future non-allowable charges during the loan period. Furthermore, signing the form may prevent an "account hold" for unpaid charges, which could prohibit you from registering and enrolling for future semesters, obtaining grades/transcripts, and receiving your diploma.

My scholarship/fellowship covers my tuition and fees, so can my Title IV funds should go toward covering the vehicle registration, and bookstore charges on my student account?

It does not matter whether or not you have a scholarship/fellowship. Federal regulations require that Title IV funds pay for your tuition, mandatory fees, and housing and food if contracted by the college, unless you sign the authorization form, which gives us permission to utilize Title IV funds to cover vehicle registration, bookstore charges and other non-allowable charges on your student account.

If I sign the authorization form, will I still be able to request a refund for the credit balance on my student account?

Yes, your authorization is permission for the college to hold excess Title IV funds on your student account but it does not prevent you from requesting a refund. You may request a refund of excess Title IV funds or any other eligible credit balance on your student account during your enrollment at the college.

Do I need to sign a new authorization form each semester?

No, by signing this document, you are granting the college authorization to retain excess Title IV funds while you are a student at the college, including breaks in enrollment if during the loan period. You may rescind your authorization at any time.

Does having an excess of Title IV funds mean that I have a credit balance on my student account?

Not necessarily. An excess of Title IV funds means that the amount of your federal financial aid exceeds the allowable charges (as defined above). You may login to your account to determine if you have a credit balance or an amount due to the college.
