MLC RESPONSE TO COVID-19

Under God's grace, we have reopened our New Ulm campus, including our residence halls. We are delivering our classes face to face with all the necessary precautions in place for the safety of our campus and our community.

In making this decision, we continue to draw upon the best resources and information available. We continue to be guided by the Center for Disease Control and the Minnesota Department of Health. We are also communicating and collaborating with Brown County Public Health and local medical centers as we consider the health needs of our students, faculty, and staff—especially those at increased risk for the COVID-19 virus. By God's grace, at the time of this reporting, our number of positive cases has been in the single digits, and those needing to be quarantined have been relatively few.

Through all the changing conditions in our society, we trust a Savior who holds our lives in his nailed-marked hands. In careful stewardship of his gifts of health and strength, we will work to keep our campus family safe, from dormitory to classroom to athletic venue. We will show love to our neighbors in the New Ulm community by hosting only essential, safe, on-campus events, and providing virtual events whenever possible. To view our updated plans, visit the MLC website and click on our updated plans for COVID-19.

EQUIPPING
CHRISTIAN

CAMPAIGN DELAYED

Our promotion of the EQUIPPING CHRISTIAN WITNESSES (ECW) campaign has been hindered by COVID-19 restrictions. Also, during recent months we have paused our campaign appeals to show consideration for congregations and individuals who may be challenged by any associated financial restrictions. However, the needs for ministry recruitment, increased student financial assistance, and campus facility enhancements are still very real. We are thankful for so many who have kept ECW in their prayers and their donations. An extension of the campaign until June 30, 2022, has been approved by the Conference of Presidents, and requests for presentations and materials have already increased through the fall months. Watch for more updates and reports as we re-energize our efforts to celebrate the silver anniversary of MLC!

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

"God willing." (Deo volente for lovers of Latin!) To whatever extent we had thoughtlessly dropped that phrase from our vocabulary, 2020 has been powerfully at work to restore that thinking to our everyday conversations. God is no doubt using the current global pandemic to teach us many things, but is it possible that more than anything, he has taught us the conditional nature of all human plans? Did you enjoy the Summer Olympics? Sorry! Canceled. That long-awaited trip overseas? Maybe next year. The large extended family reunion? Can you say, "Zoom"?

Of course, it is sad if it took a pandemic to drive that home to my heart! Chapter 4 of James' letter long ago pointed out the arrogance of human presumption. "Now listen, you who say, 'Today or tomorrow we will go to this or that city, spend a year there, carry on business and make money.' Why, you do not even know what will happen tomorrow. What is your life? You are a mist that appears for a little while and then vanishes. Instead, you ought to say, 'If it is the Lord's will, we will live and do this or that'" (James 4:13-15).

But as much as this is a call to repentance, to remember that we live devo volente, isn't it most of all an invitation to delight in grace? God's plans and thoughts are not only far higher than ours (Isaiah 55:8-9), his plans for us in Jesus are far more glorious than we could ever have imagined (1 Corinthians 2:9). Planning and living each day under the theme devo volente isn't a burden God imposes on us. In Jesus it is a blessing God bids us to enjoy.

As you look in this report at what the 2020-2021 school year looks like at MLC, and what may (or may not) be coming our way the rest of this year, this much is certain: God's plans may or may not surprise us, but they will most certainly bless our college of ministry and those who call this hill their home. These early weeks of our semester have already shown us that in multiple ways we'd never have anticipated just a year ago.

Who knew? Our Savior did! Such is his good and gracious will!

In Him,

Rich Gurgel - President, Martin Luther College
