Ambassadors – The Face of MLC

If you visit MLC, you might wonder, “Who are those snazzy students walking around in khakis and red pullovers?” It’ll only take the moment one of them says “hello” for you to realize that those friendly faces are MLC’s student ambassadors.

These 12 representatives have responsibilities that include giving tours, doing office work, finding students to host high schoolers, and going on admissions trips. Ambassador Leah Nass says, “I like telling kids about MLC because I really enjoy it here. It’s fun sharing that with other people!”

“I like interacting with high schoolers that come to visit because when I came for a Focus trip, I looked up to the student ambassadors,” adds Jacob Roecker, “and it’s cool that now I’m able to be in that position.”

With their servant attitude and constant encouragement to the next generation of public ministers, the MLC ambassadors are truly an important part of the campus family. *Back row: Eric Dorn (ILHS / Trinity-Crete IL), Luke Rothe (LPS / St. Matthew’s-Oconomowoc WI), Leah Nass (Manitowoc LHS / St. Paul-Howards Grove WI). ## A Picture’s Worth . . .

“A lot of people at MLC are interested in photography, and a few had been asking me about how to use a camera,” says MLC student photographer Adam Marley (LPS / Living Hope-Midlothian VA), “so I decided to start a photography club.”

Back in November, the first Photography Club meeting was held. Since then, MLC’s camera enthusiasts have been busy attending bi-monthly workshops and photoshoots.

“During our meetings we talk about different settings on the camera, lighting, compositing, and rules of aesthetics,” Adam explains. He has long been interested in photography, but now he enjoys sharing his expertise with others.

“It’s fun meeting with others who have the same interest in photography as I do!” says club member Bree Plach (FVL / Mt. Olive-Appleton WI). “Photography Club gives us such a unique opportunity to use our God-given talents by learning the fundamentals of photography.”
