Singing Their Hearts Out

MLC voice students spend weeks preparing for four voice recitals each year. The 30-plus singers take lessons with either Instructor Kathy Wurster or Instructor Jennifer Haugen. They memorize a variety of songs, from classical Italian opera to Broadway showtunes, and then perform.

“It’s a lot of fun,” said Lucas Krogmann (LPS / St. Paul-Ixonia WI), a junior secondary vocal music and elementary ed major. “My favorite part of our voice recitals is watching everyone’s voices grow throughout the year.” These recitals are a great opportunity for pianists to show off their skills too.

Accompanied by Alana Mittelstadt (LPS / Christ-North St. Paul MN), Lucas sang Purcell’s “We Sing to Him” at the latest midterm recital.
