MLC Aulic: Back in Action!

The MLC Aulic Committee is a group of students who choose and facilitate academic presentations throughout the year. They meet regularly to discuss lecture topics that would be interesting to the MLC student body and then issue invitations to the speakers, either MLC professors or guests. Last week the group swung back into action with a talk about Bible translations led by Professor Thomas Nass. Being a part of Aulic Committee gives students a chance to choose their own adventure, featuring everything from world religions to WWII. More Aulic presentations are coming next semester!

Sign Language: A Hands-On Experience

The new Sign Language Club, comprised of students and New Ulm community members, meets every week to learn American Sign Language with their teacher Donna Fischer, a WELS member and sign language guru. "Donna gives us a great amount of insight to deaf culture," said club member Adam Marley (LPS / Trinity-Watertown WI). Meetings are spent playing sign games and practicing new words. "I especially enjoy signing the Lord's Prayer," said Karla Kehl (Lakeside / Zion-Columbus WI). "We do it at the beginning and the end of every session." Hearing loss affects 500 million people worldwide. Sign Language Club provides a great opportunity for MLC students, who can use sign language in their ministries as pastors and teachers.
