“Here I Rake. I Can Do No Arbor”

Wearing T-shirts that riffed on Luther’s famous quote, “Here I stand. I can do no other,” students took Friday off from classes to celebrate Arbor Day – a chance to care for this beautiful property. A golf cart with cookies and drinks provided refreshments throughout the morning as they raked leaves, bagged up sticks, and helped prepare campus for graduation.

“It was a fun opportunity to get out of the classrooms and work together,” says Kailynn Lovett. “We were playing music and making jokes, all while cleaning up the campus we call home.”

“I look forward to Arbor Day every year,” says Nate Graumann (Lakeside / Bethany-Fort Atkinson WI). “It’s always one of the first nice days of spring, so everyone is excited to get outside. I think it’s really cool MLC gives us this opportunity to show our appreciation for the facilities we’ve been blessed with.”

In the afternoon, students took advantage of the warm weather with a massive disc golf tournament, a 5K run, a tree-planting ceremony, and sand volleyball games.

Peter Pan to Play for Thousands

Children’s Theater is gearing up for their upcoming production of Peter Pan! The much-anticipated show has racked up over 5,000 ticket sales already, and it promises to be one you won’t want to miss!

“We work so well together,” says Dan Granberg (KML / Morning Star-Jackson WI), who plays Peter Pan. “The cast is such a talented group of individuals, and we’ve had a lot of fun putting this thing together. I’ll be sad when it’s over.”

“Peter Pan is such a magical story, and it’s been a joy and a blessing to be a part of it,” says Alyssa Tessmer (MVL / Zion-Winthrop MN), who plays Wendy Darling. “I’m most looking forward to our grade school shows. I can’t wait to interact with the kids and bring smiles to their faces.”

MLC Forum brings together unique groups of people for fun adventures and endless chances to praise God both onstage and backstage. Whether you opt for acting, directing, costuming, makeup, lights, sound, ushering, or one of many other tasks, this organization provides amazing opportunities for you to showcase your talents.
